

High Park Society

High Park Society (HPS) is a studio music project that has a retro and nostalgic feeling of classic New Wave. The music is catchy and provokes a tone of positivity.

Formed in 2015 in Mississauga, Ontario CANADA, High Park Society is an alt-pop studio project conceived as a retro 80s sound featuring new wave drums, melodic bass, chunky and jangly guitars accented with trumpet, piano and keyboard with a mix of old school rock vocals.

What Others Are Saying

- "This song [Indecision] is absolutely amazing the solo of the drums and the harmonica was mind blowing, I love it, not sure if its a harmonica or a sax of some sort, either way i loved it, reminded me of songs like sultans of swing and bands eagles, the lyrics was great, the chord progression was soothing, IT WAS AMAZING", Crowdreview, M18, 10/10
- "The vocals on the song [Indecision] is clean and very inspiring. lovely melodic sounds coming from lead singing will have anyone falling in love again. beautiful song that can withstand the hands of time for the next generations to come. you will not want this song to end.", Crowdreview, M29, 10/10
- "Music sounds very old school. Like 1980s. Mixing/ production sounds professionally done. Instruments sound very crisp and clean-very good for the listening ear. Lead vocal and background sounds good for listening. i would add this to my old school playlist.", Crowdreview, F30, 10/10
